MÉLIA

ABOUT

Mélia is a 19-year-old musician from Chelsea, Québec. Classically trained in flute at the Québec Music Conservatory, she also plays multiple instruments and draws inspiration from a wide range of styles, from indie-folk to electronic music. She writes, produces and performs music. She is currently a student at Berklee College of Music, with the dream to be an interdisciplinary performing artist.

Mélia's goal is to make the flute a unique and expressive voice across all of her creative projects throughout her musical career.
